The T. A. Blacks spent Memorial Day weekend in Woodward, Okla., visiting relatives.

Mrs. Jennie Steen is visiting her brother, A. L. Tandy, in Farwell.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Furlow are visiting his sister at Victoria.

Guests in the K. E. Hines home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Stoneking of Vader, Wash., and Mrs. Ellen Griffin of Lebanon, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Kinney spent the weekend in Sulphur Springs visiting her mother, Mrs. G. W. Garner, and attending the Garner family reunion.

Guests in the Bud Parker home over the Memorial Day weekend were Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Cole of Pratt, Kans., Mrs. G. L. Ruhl of Kansas City, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Trench of Kansas City. Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Ruhl are Mrs. Parker's sisters.

Mrs. Dewey M. Foster spent a few days last week visiting relatives in Memphis. She attended a bridal shower for her niece, Miss Katherine Wright, bride-elect of Don Reeves of Amarillo. Miss Wright is a graduate of West Texas State.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Pond and Ivan and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bonds visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pfeffer and Mike of Borger Sunday, and then left Monday on their vacation trip. They will go to Southwest City, Mo., for a family reunion, stopping enroute in Elk City, Oklahoma City, and Tulsa, Okla., and Siloam Springs, Ark.

The trees along the west end of Fourth Avenue were up rooted last week as the State Highway Department began widening Highway 217 from the courthouse to 11th Street. Elmo King drives the bulldozer which was one of several vehicles used to knock down and clear away the trees. The widened highway will come back almost to the sidewalk. The highway will also take in about half of the sidewalk on the north side of the square, so Charles Donnell, manager of Canyon Theatres, Inc., has begun tearing down the marquee of the Olympic Theatre.

Wheat Harvest Halted by Rain

Rains, ranging from two to more than four inches, have halted Randall County's wheat harvest before it really began.

Farmers were almost ready to pull combines into the fast-ripening fields when heavy downpours Sunday and Monday night put a stop to cutting.

S. L. Robinson, who farms southeast of Canyon, brought a test load of dryland wheat to Ralph Switch Saturday afternoon. Tests on the 248 bushels, cut from 21 acres, ran 19.5 percent moisture.

Unofficial measurements put the rainfall in Canyon at 2.40 inches. Generally heavy rains have been reported, with some farmers south of Canyon receiving more than four inches in three separate storms that swept the county Sunday and Monday.

In most instances, the rains were too late to benefit the wheat crop, especially wheat on dry-land farms.

Doyle Thomas, director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said farmers had told him they would begin harvesting as soon as the ground dried enough to allow machinery to enter the fields.

May Begin Tomorrow

Thomas predicted fields would be dry by Thursday or Friday, if no more rain falls.

He also said he thought it would be the first part of next week before harvest really gets into full swing on the county's 118,000 acres of wheat, both dryland and irrigated.

Hail Damage Light

Hail damage in the county is light compared to past years, Thomas said.

Areas of major damage include a strip east of Canyon along the Palo Duro highway, the northwest corner of the county, and a strip along the southern edge.

Thomas said it is too early to know the market price for wheat and whether it will be above the loan price.

This year's loan price is $1.79 for wheat to be stored in public warehouses. After storage rates are paid, farmers would receive about $1.70 per bushel on the loan price.

Kids' Fish Rodeo On Tap Saturday

Canyon's third annual Jaycee Fish Rodeo for smallfry is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, with prizes offered in two divisions, according to Don Singleton, publicity chairman for the Jaycees.

This year's Rodeo will be held on the farm of Doug Rittenberry, which is located on the Canyon city Club road. Signs will direct fishermen to the contest site. Singleton stresses that cars must enter from this road and must park in the area provided there.

Contestants will be divided into two divisions, those under nine years old and those between nine and fourteen. No one older than 14 may enter.

The contest begins at 1 p.m. Saturday, and judging will be held at 6 p.m. Judges will be Woody Pond, local gamewarden; Richard Pruett, chairman of the Rodeo; and Joe Gidden.

Seven prizes are offered in each division. Top prizes are for the largest perch, the largest catfish, and the most fish caught. The other four prizes in each division are for second most fish, third most fish, etc.

Jaycees will also hold the drawing for the Rototiller they are raffling at the contest site at 6 p.m. Those who have bought tickets need not be present to win, but the Rototiller will be given to the winner if he is present.

Rodeo rules are as follows: 1. Age limit 14 years; 2. Fishermen should not bother cattle nor wander away from the creek; 3. Only worms can be used for bait, and each fisherman must bring his own; 4. Trash must be put in barrels that will be provided; 5. No adult may fish; 6. Any type of rig may be used; 7. All bass must be returned to the water; 8. Each entrant should be accompanied by an adult.

John L. Williams, 2007 First Avenue, will give a bucket of worms to any contestant who comes after them. If the parents of any entrant are not able to accompany him, he should call the Jaycees, and they will find someone for him.

Neither the Jaycees nor the Rittenberrys will be responsible in case of accidents.

Three Teachers Added to Staff

Three new teachers were added to the faculty of Canyon schools at a recent meeting of the school trustees.

Hired were Mrs. Kathryn McBride as a member of elementary school faculty, Gene Duncan as a mathematics instructor in junior high school, and Allen Simpson as assistant football coach and head basketball coach.

A definite decision on a proposed salary increase for teachers is expected at the next regular meeting. That meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m. on June 21.

Merle Jenkins Services Held

Merle Isaiah Jenkins, 57, 1911 Third Avenue, died Monday in Neblett Hospital. Services were held Tuesday at 3 p.m. at LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Jenkins, a Randall County stock farmer, was born November 26, 1902, in Canyon.

Rev. Newton Starnes, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiated at the services. Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery, with LaGrone Funeral Chapel in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include the mother, Mrs. I. C. Jenkins, of Canyon, and one brother, Ira Jenkins, of Houston.

Two New Officials for County Named in Demo Runoff Vote

Randall County got itself a new judge and commissioner in the runoff election Saturday and helped return the incumbent to the state representative's office.

In one of the few real surprises of the Democratic primary elections, Wayland Angel, Canyon farmer, defeated Carroll Brown, Amarillo attorney, for the post of county judge.

Meanwhile, B. R. Jones was squeezing past incumbent B. E. "Bailie" McCormick in the precinct 1 commissioner's race by a narrow 280-vote margin to gain that office.

Springer Tops Lee

Ted Springer gained considerable support from northern Panhandle counties while splitting the vote in Randall and Potter counties to defeat Gen. William L. "Jerry" Lee for the office of state representative of the 94th Flotorial District.

In the only state-wide race on the runoff ballot, Randall County helped elect W. T. McDonald as judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals. McDonald defeated Lloyd W. Davidson, the incumbent, in this county and statewide to gain the office.

Although he didn't win at a single one of the large South Amarillo boxes, Angel beat Brown by 181 votes. However, Angel did pull the majority of votes in 12 of the 18 voting precincts, including the two Canyon boxes.

Brown carried only two of the South Amarillo boxes decisively, but that wasn't enough to overcome the sizeable vote Angel garnered in the rural precincts.

In four of the voting boxes, Brown did not get a single vote. This was in precincts 2, 4, 7, and 8.

Jones Won Big Ones

In the commissioner's race, McCormick swept the rural precincts, but it was not enough to overcome the South Amarillo vote. McCormick's home is at 2512 Sixth Avenue in Canyon, while Jones lives in Amarillo.

Springer Wins Handily

Springer did not carry the vote in Randall County as he did in some Panhandle counties, but still won handily over Lee, the retired Air Force general.

Final tabulation of votes showed Springer with 2,756 votes to Lee's 2,537 in Randall County.

Randall County also went along with the state in electing McDonald over incumbent Davidson for the judgeship in the Court of Criminal Appeals. Final count was 2,806 votes for McDonald and 2,104 votes for Davidson.

Burial Set Here For Mrs. Terrill

Mrs. R. A. Terrill, wife of one of Canyon's early leading citizens, died Thursday in Warren, Pa.

The remains will be brought here to be buried in Dreamland Cemetery. Services will be held at graveside June 18.

Mrs. Terrill was a member of the Baptist church. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. M. J. Ream, of Warren.

Mrs. Terrill's husband, R. A. Terrill, died in 1940. He was editor of the Canyon newspaper in 1908. The name of the paper then was The Randall County News.

In 1909 Terrill was secretary of the committee which worked to bring West Texas State College to Canyon.

Terrill also was appointed by WT President R. B. Cousins to serve on a board which planned the buildings for the college. The original Terrill Hall at WT was named for Terrill, since he supervised its construction. When the new Terrill Hall was built, it too was named for him.

Terrill was a professor at WT for many years and at one time was head of the industrial arts department. He also helped to establish the athletic program there during the early years of the college.

Many New Books Added to Library

Several books have been added to the shelves of the Randall County public library recently.

Recent additions, recommed for summer reading include:

Adult books—"Gusty's Child" by Alice Tisdal Hobart, "The Fabulous Showman—The Life and Times of P. T. Barnum" by Irving Wallace, "Three Is a Family" by Edna Pettigrew, "More Than Brick and Mortar" by J. A. Hill, "Bending the Twig" by Augustin Rudd.

"The Darkness and the Dawn" by Thomas B. Costain, "Exodus" by Leon Uris, "Dear and Glorious Physician" by Taylor Caldwell, "Cavalcade of Hooves and Horns" by Steve Wilhelm, and "Santa Fe" by Oliver LaFarge.

Juvinile books — "Tenderfoot Trapper" by Arthur Catherall, "The Terrible Churnadryne" by Eleanor Cameron, "Creole Holiday" by Phyllis Whitney, "Madeline and the Gypsies" by Ludwig Belemans, "Witch's Silver" by Dorothy Butters, "The Millcreek Irregulars" by August Derleth.

"Jets and Rockets" by William Gottlieb, "Voyages West" by Margaret A. Johansen, "Copy Girl" by Cecil Jane Tichmond, and "The Mystery of Black Sod Point" by Helen O'Clery.

Swim Pool Open For Summer Fun

A new heater has been installed which will keep water tempertture at 80 degrees and the new floor on the pool has a smoother bottom for swimming.

Ronald Mills will manage the pool, assisted by Jim Greenwood.

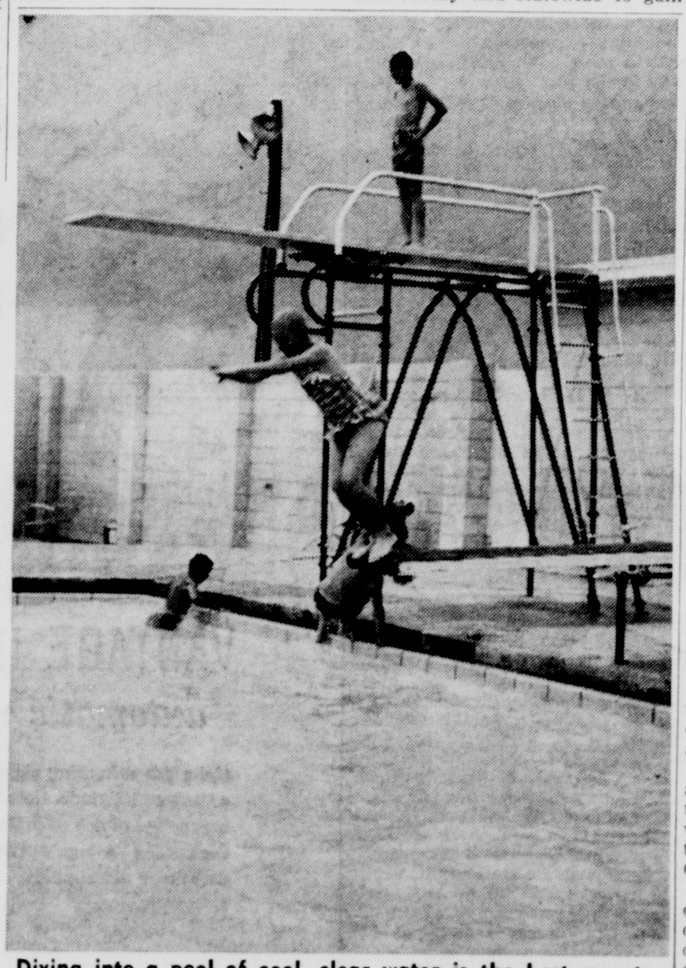
"This is the best system we have ever had, and the best pool," said Herschell Stevens, city manager.

Season tickets may be bought for $12 for adults, $10 for teenagers, and $8 for children 12 and under. Regular admission prices are 50 cents for adults, 35 cents for teenagers, and 25 cents for children 12 and under.

Swimming classes will begin June 13, with registration from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. until June 12. Classes, which will be taught by adult instructors, will be $5 for 15 instructions.

Classes will meet on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 9:45 to 10:30 a.m., 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. and 11.15 to noon. Women's classes will meet from 7 to 9 on Tuesday nights.

The pool will be open for the public from 1:30 to 5:30 p.m. daily, and from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.



Diving into a pool of cool, clear water is the best way to spend a hot, summer afternoon, as these young swimmers have discovered. Temperature control and a new floor have been added to the Conner Park swimming pool to make it a better place than ever to cool off when the thermometer rises.

Teams Compete At 4-H Roundup

Two 4-H Club teams from Randall County are competing in the state-wide 4-H Roundup now being held at College Station.

The three day event, in which the top teams from 22 districts will compete, is being held on the Texas A&M campus.

Competing from Randall County are the girls electrical demonstration team and the boys rifle team, who won the District I competition held on the West Texas State College campus.

Virginia Friemel and Lucy Tucek, the electrical team, were accompanied by Mrs. Mona K. Hildreth, county home demonstration agent, Mrs. C. V. Conatser, and Mrs. Marilyn Baker.

CHS Adds Simpson To Coaching Staff

Allen "Bones" Simpson, former West Texas State College basketball standout, has been added to the coaching staff of E. J. "Jeep" Webb at Canyon High School.

Webb was named head coach earlier this year after Bill Davis resigned to accept the head coaching job at Lamesa High School. Chambless was hired as assistant coach a few weeks ago by the school board.

Replace Kauffman, West

Chambless and Simpson replace James Kauffman and Bill West, assistant coaches under Davis.

Simpson, who received his bachelor of science degree in physical education from WT in 1958, was winner in 1957 of the Kleinschmidt Most Valuable Basketball Player Award and the Canyon Rotary Club's Fighting Heart Award.

As a senior for the Buffaloes, Simpson averaged 13.8 points per game and had a 47 per cent field goal percentage. His freshman year—in 1954—he averaged 25 points per game.

Teacher at Borger

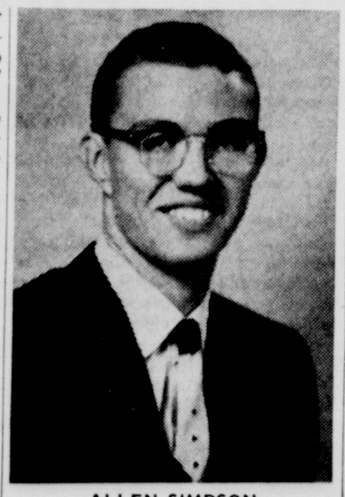
Simpson, 24, has been teaching at Borger's Sam Houson Junior High School. Prior to that he taught at Gateway Grade School in Borger.

He is married to the former Jeralyn Partridge of Canyon and they have one daughter, born in April. They will move to Canyon sometime this summer.



ALLEN SIMPSON

Funeral Services Held for Morris

Funeral services for J. H. (Jack) Morris, 64, were held Monday at 4 p.m. in LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Morris, a retired druggist and former Canyon resident, died Saturday in Kerrville. He was born in 1896 in Iowa.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the services, assisted by Rev. Win R. Matsler, former pastor of the First Christian Church here.

Burial was in Dreamland Cemetery, under the direction of the LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

University Medical School Graduates James K. Knott

James Kirk Knott, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. K. Knott, was graduated from the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas recently. Dr. and Mrs. Knott attended the commencement exercises.

Knott will serve his internship at the University of Kansas Medical Center in Kansas City.

Injured in Bicycle Fall

Kim Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Tucker, is recovering from arm and leg injuries suffered in a fall on her bicycle.

When the Monkeys Are Out

When we were kids — and it was after the demise of the cigar-store Indian and the horse-drawn carriage, despite what our children may think — this was a pretty exciting time of year. It still is.

When we were kids, the cry was: "Schools out! Schools out! Teacher's let the monkeys out!" Wouldn't be a bit surprised if kids today were saying the same darn thing.

The summer months will be jam-packed with unbelievable amounts of fun — swimming, walking, playing, biking, climbing, running, jumping, and, for some of the older boys and girls, driving a car.

Summer, for kids, is the roaming season. It's a time of freedom. It's also a time of tragedy — tragedy from accidents The big killer in June-July-August to school-age children is drownings. This information comes from the National Safety Council, a nongovernmental agency founded in 1913 to prevent all kinds of accidents — home, farm, work, public, traffic, and school.

According to the council, no exact figures are available on what injuries befall children in summer. Cuts and bruises are probably high on the list, we'd suspect.

To try to list even a fraction of the safety tips that come to mind to prevent summertime accidents and injuries would be an impossible task, and would fill much more space than we have here.

Because the National Safety Council tells us that drownings, in all probability, will be the No. 1 death-dealer to our children during the next few months, we think a few words of advice on that subject are warranted here. The council says children should, naturally, be in condition to swim, that they should never swim alone, and that they should be impressed with these cautions:

1. Swim only at guarded pools.
2. Wait awhile after eating before you swim.
3. Don't swim when you're heated and tired.
4. Showing off in the water, ducking other swimmers, and crying "wolf" are never done by boys and girls who think before they act.
5. Be just as cautious in a boat or walking along a river bank as when swimming. Lots of children drown each year from slipping, falling, or leaping into the water.

Maybe you believe your children will think you're a fuddy-duddy if you try to give them such advice. We think it all depends on how you give the advice. If you can get across the point that you only want them to enjoy their birthright —but that they can't enjoy life very well from a wheelchair—you're on the right track, in our opinion.

When all's said and done, it's actually up to parents to make sure sons and daughters keep out of danger this summer. Children actually aren't old enough to be completely responsible for their actions. We simply have to expect the unexpected from children.

History Prevails

The U. S. Supreme Court at last has recognized what Harry S. Truman saw but Adlai Stevenson, to his considerable cost in the 1952 presidential campaign, failed to see. That is, in the words of Mr. Truman in a 1948 campaign speech at Austin, that "Texas is in a class by itself" as regards its claim to ownership of the lands off its shores. In fact, it took 10 years, an act of Congress and substantial change in its membership to put the Supreme Court itself on the right track.

What set Texas apart in the tidelands claims which the Supreme Court has now vindicated in full is the fact that Texas was an independent republic before it came into the Union. By its own act the republic established its outer boundary 10½ miles from shore in the Gulf. This boundary was accepted by the United States when Texas became a state, and has been reiterated and insisted upon by the federal government in treaties made since that time.

Full examination of the basis for the state's claim has impressed the court with its validity. This full examination it did not receive in 1950, when the tribunal almost summarily held that Texas did not own any of the submerged area beyond the low-water mark. Congress took a hand in reversing this holding in 1953, when it passed a law affirming ownership by the states of all seaward lands within their historic borders. It was to determine just whether three miles out, as the U. S. Department of Justice contended, or 10½ miles out, as Texas doggedly maintained—that this latest ruling of the Supreme Court was issued. And the decision was that the boundary is where Texas has claimed it to be all along.

At stake in the case was the potential wealth from oil which in unknown quantites underlies the submerged costal shelf. This could involve great sums. Whatever the amount, the returns derived from the area within 10½ miles of the Texas coast now will go to the state's permanent school fund. Confirmation of the Texas title, then, is a great victory for this and future generations of Texas school children, preserving the patrimony established for them by their forefathers when immense areas of public lands were set aside for educational purposes.

It is also a victory for state pride, for preservation of the traditional relationship between the states and the federal government. The total story of the tidelands controversy and its outcome is also a rebuff to efforts of a strong national government to override the rights of its member states.

The losers in the immediate case, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, will not so regard it. A majority of the court decided that the claim of these states to areas beyond the three-mile limit was not so clear-cut as that of Texas, or of Florida as regards its Gulf coast. On the basis of simple justice and equal treatment, the losing states may have cause to ask Congress to clarify its intent in passing the 1953 quitclaim law.

As to the Texas phase of the case, it can be said that the decision upholds the plain intent of Congress, as the suit filed by the attorney general sought to thwart it. For Texans, it is a battle once lost and twice won. That, it fervently is to be hoped, will settle it.

Jimmy Gillentine in the Hereford Brand: R. L. Ethridge, the telephone man, attended a meeting in Austin last week and took time off to revisit Texas University campus, where he went to school more than 30 years ago. This was his first visit back, and he says that nothing is the same. Absolutely nothing! He even went to Sunday School in the church he attended as a student, but reports that it had also been changed beyong recognition.

"It was hard to figure out where the old buildings once stood, much less find one of them," said Ethridge. Duane Wallace, son of Mrs Virginia Wallace, conducted R. L. on his campus tour, for which Ethridge was thankful. "Otherwise," he adds, "I would probably have been completely lost."

This happens to a lot of old grads. It also proves that folks who can remember when coffee breaks came with meals had better let well enough alone.

Harold Hudson in the Ochiltree County Herald: Cub Scouting is supposed to be a father and son relationship, and requires family participation in order for the Cub Scout to earn the various badges and awards. Our family just finished reading a book on nature study as one of these family projects. To our surprise, we learned a lot about bees and red ants. We didn't say birds and bees-we said bees and red ants. Fortunately there is a long established den close by our house—one which has defied years of dousing with ant poison, with cyanide gas, with everything else. Now our Cub Scout and his little brother have a laboratory with which to observe the red ants at work. Ants are always busy, and they can move objects many times their own weight, by applying scientific principles of leverage. They go down ant trails, guided by scent, and never seem to get lost or wander into the wrong den. They are fascinating to watch, and when you are seven and nine, you have more time for this sort of thing than you do when you get our age.

George Dolan in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram: Quanah doesn't get outside notice to suit its newspaper editor, Ed Eakin.

"If an oil well comes in," Eakin said the other day, "the daily papers locate it so many miles from Chillicothe—never so many miles from Quanah.

"Why," he added, "there are people, in towns not too far away, who've never heard of Quanah."

A service club visitation team ran across some of those people not long ago, Eakin said.

They visited fellow club members in a little town near Jacksboro. The people there were really impressed—here were people visiting them from a town they'd never heard of.

"What town was that?" Eakin was asked.

"I forget the name," he said. "I'd never heard of it before."

That, at least, makes 'em even.

Notoriety of Horned Toad Tops That Received by Most Animals

By BOYCE HOUSE
(Conclusion of story of Old Rip)

What was the scene which the waiting audience beheld? The three stories of the courthouse had been leveled. All that remained, besides the basement, was the floor of the first story — and a jagged section of wall, some eight feet high, immediately above the cornerstone.

By this time many persons were standing on the floor of the old structure; others were perched on a mound of debris in the yard but most were on the ground. Heads were thrust from the upper windows of the buildings overlooking the square. Fully 1,500 were present and eyes were directed, from all sides, from above and from below at the cornerstone as the drama began.

A cable was looped about the wall and the end was attached to a truck which began to tug. But there were warning shouts; the wall and the cornerstone were so firmly attached that both threatened to topple. So a worker perforated just above the cornerstone, then the truck began to pull again but, once more, both wall and cornerstone were in danger of falling. A second time, the worker plied the pick and when the line again tightened, the wall fell, leaving the cornerstone in place.

Roar Greets Discovery

All of this I saw as I stood nervously in the fringe of the crowd. Not wishing to be a target of the jibes and perhaps anger when nothing was found, I walked across the street and, entering the bank building, climbed the steps to the second floor. Just as I entered the office of a friend, there was a roar from outside and a man in the window shouted, "They've found the frog!" I rushed across the room and just then there came a louder roar and the watcher exclaimed, "And the d—— thing's alive!"

When the wall had been torn down, a worker, with a pick, broke a layer of cement — an important bit of circumstantial evidence. With the layer of cement removed, a metal covering was revealed. The lid was lifted. The Rev. F. E. Singleton, pastor of the Methodist Church, who had been standing beside the cornerstone, peered in, then pointed and said, "There's the frog!"

Gene Day, an oil man, took out the creature, flat and dust-covered, and handed the apparently lifeless frog to the minister who in turn gave it to Judge Pritchard. Grasping the animal by a hind leg, the official held it high so that all could see and there was a cheer.

Frog Takes Cycle Ride

Then Pritchard saw the other hind leg twitch and the creature's body began to swell as he obtained his first breath of air in 31 years! That was when the greater roar arose. Excitement gripped the crowd and those in the back pressed forward so there was danger that the frog would be knocked to the ground and trampled.

County Motorcycle Officer Bob Hammett took the creature, forced his way through the crowd, got on his motorcycle and rode to the edge of town to allow the excitement to subside.

The news flashed around the world. Some scientists scoffed but Dr. William T. Hornaday, former director of the New York Zoological Gardens, who had explored many parts of the world, including the Southwest, declared the feat was quite possible. Many West Texans came forward with incidents in their own knowledge of horned frogs surviving long peperiods without food or water. Arthur Brisbane commented in his front page column, "Today," with an audience of 15,000,000 or more. Preachers told about the frog from the pulpit. He inspired poems and editorials.

Second to Serpent

On Page 1 of a metropolitan journal appeared the following without dateline or word of explanation: "First Straphanger—They say he was flat as a dollar. Second Straphanger—Well, you would be, too, if you'd had a whole courthouse resting on your chest for 31 years." It was said that no achievement by an individual, except Lindbergh's lone flight across the Atlantic, had ever received as much newspaper space. Old Rip, as the frog was christened, was declared to be the most famous animal since the serpent in the Garden of Eden.

Some weeks after the cornerstone opening, spring began and, the hibernation season ended, vast numbers of horned frogs made their appearance. Thousands were shipped to the North and East, and even to foreign lands, as souvenirs. A representative of the United States Department of Agriculture warned that, because the creatures kept in check insects which were injurious, nature's balance was in danger of being upset; and there was a proposal that the Texas Legislature bar the shipments.

Meanwhile, Old Rip had gone to Dallas to be exhibited in a theater but Judge Pritchard, claiming the frog as county property, ordered his return to Eastland; so he was brought back. After some weeks, Old Rip set out on a tour of the nation. In Dallas, he was "arrested" as the theatrical promoter had sued, alleging breach of contract. Will Wood — (remember the lad who had originally owned the creature?) — arranged for the frog's freedom on bond and the trip continued. In St. Louis, 40,000 persons filed by in a single day, a record for that city's zoo for an individual attraction. In New York City a news reel with sound (this was in the early days of "talkies") was made, with Will Wood doing the talking; a crew of 18 men was required and the cost was approximately $5,000.

Outsat 'Silent Cal'

It was in Washington that the frog achieved his greatest triumph: a call on Calvin Coolidge in the White House. Incidentally, through a misunderstanding, the Eastland frog kept the president of the United States waiting 15 minutes. Old Rip looked at Coolidge and Coolidge looked at Old Rip. Neither spoke. At last the president broke the stillness. "Silent Cal" had met his match.

The frog returned to Eastland and Wood kept him at home in a bowl. One day a "norther" struck and the layer of sand and rocks in the bowl was inadequate to shield him from the sudden and intense cold. When Wood went to feed Old Rip, he found the frog lifeless. The date was January 19, 1929. He had lived 11 months and one day after emerging from the cornerstone.

Is the story really true? M. W. McMinn, a merchant in nearby Olden, said he saw a live frog placed in the cornerstone in 1897; and Ernest Wood said he saw it placed there. And 31 years later, hundreds saw the cornerstone opened and a live frog removed.

A bit of corroboration was the finding in the stone of a faded piece of paper on which Wood had written the names of his sons, Harry and Will—(the paper called the latter Willie, which had been his nickname in 1897). Here is another perhaps significant circumstance. When a horned frog hibernates, he sheds his horns but they grow back. When Old Rip came out, (it was still hibernating season) his horns were gone and they never regrew. Could this have indicated an unusual ordeal, such as being sealed up for three decades? There are many men in prisons all over the nation, sent there on circumstantial evidence no stronger than that in the case of Old Rip.

In the lobby of the present courthouse stands a glass tomb and several thousand persons each year view the frog's mummy which, it has been said, will last as long as the mummies of the Pharaohs. Above each entrance of the temple of justice there is a star and between each point there is the sculptured likeness of the frog and so it be truly stated that the beautiful five-story courthouse of brick and stone is a memorial to Old Rip, the horned frog that is a legend.

More People Being Born Than Dying in Texas, Figures Show

Births outpaced deaths by a ratio of 3.5 to one in Texas last year, provisional State Department of Health figures show.

The department's section on records and statistics counted a total of 248,700 births for 1959, as against 73,753 deaths. That's an increase of 174,947 births over deaths during the 12-month period.

The 1959 births represents an increase of 3,194 over the 245,606 births recorded during 1958. State Health Department statisticians described the 1958 birth rate as the "lowest in several years," but do not speculate as to the reason.

Death Rate Static

The 1958-1959 death rate remained fairly constant, with an increase of only 310 between the 1959 figure and the 73,443 deaths registered in 1958.

The 1959 excess of births over deaths represents a natural population increase of 1.9 percent, the department pointed out.

The department said that in the 10-year period between April, 1950, and April, 1960, there had been 2,351,464 births registered, compared with 683,244 deaths, for an excess of 1,668,220 births over deaths during the decade.

Disregarding immigrations and migrations, this represents a natural population increase of 21.6 percent over the 1950 Texas population of 7,711,194—contrasted to an increase in population from births alone of 20.2 percent for the preceding decade between 1940-1950, the department said.

A mental retardation research and evaluation center will shortly be opened within the Texas Medical Center in Houston, under auspices of the Texas State Department of Health, Baylor University College of Medicine, and the U.S. Children's Bureau.

Complete physical and psychological examinations will be made of all children accepted for service, sponsors said. The clinic's staff will consist of a medical director, medical social worker, psychologist, and a public health nurse.

Project sponsors said funds amounting to some $65,000 to $75,000 annually are presently on hand to operate the clinic for five years, after which its future will be contingent on the availability of additional money.

MRS. MAX PIUS HOFFMAN

Throckmorton-Hoffman Vows Read In St. Ann's Catholic Church May 27

In a nuptial Mass at St. Ann's Catholic Church in Canyon last Friday, May 27, Miss Clarissa Jo "Candy" Throckmorton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harbin of Canyon, became the bride of Max Pius Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hoffman of Umbarger.

Father James Comiskey officiated at the double ring ceremony, and Johnny Hoffman and Billy Stocker served as altar boys.

Mrs. Fred Begert, organist, played a processional and recessional by Carlo Rossini and Miss Carolyn Cooke, Miss Sue Fain, and Miss Jo Hubbard sang "Ave Maria" and "O Lord Most Holy."

Altar Decorations

The main altar, the Blessed Mother's altar, and the Sacred Heart altar were each decorated with bouquets of garden flowers.

Miss Mary Hoffman was maid-of-honor. Mrs. Evelyn Adams was bridesmatron, and Miss Louise Hoffman was a bridesmaid.

The attendants' dresses were fashioned with a fitted bodice, a bouffant skirt, full sleeves, and a cummerbun. The necklines dipped into a V in the back. The maid-of-honor's dress was Peacock blue chiffon, the bridesmatron's dress was apricot chiffon, and the bridesmaid's dress was pale blue taffeta.

White Carnations

They each carried a bouquet of white carnations with streamers tied in love-knots and each wore white accessories.

Gene Stocker was best man, and Carroll Adams was groomsman.

Escorted and given in marriage by her step-father, the bride wore a lace and satin gown. The fitted lace bodice featured a waistline which dipped into points in the front and back. The scalloped neckline and sleeves were highlighted with seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

The satin bouffant skirt was waltz length and was adorned with draped lace and tiny cabbage rosetts on each side. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was lace edged and was attached to a crown of pearlized roses, forget-me-nots, and leaves. The crown was first worn by the bride's Godmother.

Bridal Bouquet

The bridal bouquet topped a white prayer book and was a cascade arrangement of white carnations and gardenias.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Catholic Newman Center for the wedding party and guests. The bride's table was laid with a lace tablecloth and crystal. The bridal bouquet was the centerpiece.

Miss Sally White registered guests, and Miss Deanna Stocker served as candid photographer. Mrs. Carl Kleuskins was in charge of the reception and members of the house party were Miss Sue Fain, Miss Jo Hubbard, Miss Carolyn Glazener, Miss Edna Lewis, Miss Sally Jennings, Miss Elaine Downing, and Miss Kathryn Winstead.

Dance Follows

At 9 P.M. a dance and shower was held at St. Mary's Hall in Umbarger, Texas with "The Spiders" presenting the music.

The bride's mother chose a pink eyelet and linen outfit and black and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a royal blue cotton-blend dress and white accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

The couple are at home at 1718 E. 5th in Amarillo.

The bride will graduate from Canyon High School in August and the bridegroom attended school in Umbarger and Canyon and is now employed at the Texas Highway Department in Amarillo.

We've never been released from prison (really haven't been in yet); nor have we been mustered out of the Army after a hitch in a war zone. But short of those two experiences, we challenge anyone to think up a greater sense of freedom than the school teacher gets when the last set of grades for the spring term are turned in.

The irksome things that happened during the year — the itchy student who ruined the morale of a whole class, the irate parent who needed a good spanking herself — are but memories now. And with a sigh, the teacher can say, "I got through it!" Today, she looks with high hope toward a summer of being herself; of no greater problems than a disorderly clothes closet or a weedy flower bed that won't talk back.

We watched a batch of teachers getting ready to take off one morning last week and it was a happy sight. Hustling faster than usual, they made ready to begin the easy-going schedule of doing things when they made ready to begin the easy-going schedule of doing things when they wanted to instead of after hours. It was like a spring thaw; the tautness and tension of working against the clock, with all kinds of personalities, was replaced by lighthearted farewells. For three whole months the starched discipline of proper dress and proper manner could be laid away on a shelf, replaced by the slacks and loafers of regular folks.

By September, of course, this feeling has vanished. Like a fretful child after a good night's sleep, the teacher returns to her classroom eager and refreshed. Each child who enters the door is a separate challenge, each mind a mystery to be explored. But for now, freedom! There's nothing like it anywhere!

"Our family has time for games after dinner while our dishes are washed electrically," say Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartlett.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett are school teachers, and before the children arrived, Mr. Bartlett helped by taking care of the dishes. When Mrs. Bartlett returned to her teaching duties, Mr. Bartlett decided to let Reddy do the dishes.

The Bartletts bought a portable because they like the convenience of loading dishes at the table. When they built their new home, they kept the portable, designing space to accommodate it.

Marion Joyce Smith Becomes Bride Of Kerry Franklin in Recent Rites

Miss Marion Joyce Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Smith of Pecos, and Kerry Neil Franklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Franklin of Canyon, exchanged nuptial vows recently in the Church of Christ of Pecos, with J. R. Collins officiating.

Baskets of white gladioli flanked the altar and soft recorded wedding selections were played during the ceremony.

The maid of honor, Penny Smith, was attired in an orchid silk organza dress with white accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Given by Father

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white frock with lace bodice and silk organza skirt over satin. The scoop neckline was trimmed with seed pearls, seen also on her gloves. She wore a shoulder length veil and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Don Martin of Houston acted as best man. Ushers were Johnny Teague and Sonny Franklin of Canyon, brother of the groom.

Mrs. W. W. Teague was hostess for a reception in her home immediately following the ceremony.

Carnations Center Table

The bride's table was laid with a white cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of white carnations and silver candelabra holding white tapers. Similar arrangements were placed at other focal points and on the buffet. A white orchid was placed on the registry table, where Frances Powell presided.

Cornelia Powell served at the punch bowl and Glenda Powell served wedding cake with a knife which was a gift to the couple.

For a short wedding trip, Mrs. Franklin changed to a two-piece ensemble of white and orchid checks, with the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

She is a graduate of Pecos High School and is employed as bookkeeper with Security State Bank of Pecos.

Franklin graduated from Canyon High School and West Texas State College. He is a science teacher at Pecos High School.

AF Commission Given to Miller

Ralph E. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Miller, 710 22nd Street, graduated Wednesday from the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado.

At commencement exercises, Miller was given a bachelor of science degree and commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force, with the wings of an aerial navigator. Before receiving his commission, Miller was a cadet squadron operations officer.

Miller entered the academy immediately after graduating from Canyon High School in 1956. At the academy, Miller was posted to the Superintendent's Merit List during his first class year and was a member of the Talon magazine staff, the entertainment committee, and the class committee.

His first assignment will be direct duty with a missile division of the Strategic Air Command.

SHADY TACTICS

When it comes to dealing, the square deal is very often lost in the shuffle.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The margin of profit or loss is usually dependent upon the type of management given. This is true for ranchers as it is for any other business. A high producing ranch will sell more pounds of beef than a low producing ranch.

The measure of production, then, is in terms of pounds of beef per acre. Good management will aim toward developing the range grasses into a high state of vigor by: (a) removing unnecessary competition, such as woody plants (b) seeding good grasses in suitable locations (c) eliminating overgrazed areas by developing additional water facilities or by the placement of salt (d) chiseling, furrowing, or pitting areas when normal rainfall tends to runoff, yet the soil is otherwise capable of growing good grass, and (e) developing a system of grazing with the proper number and class of livestock.

A conservation plan should be the basis for the needed treatment. A plan is developed following a survey of the land on the ranch. A range site and condition survey is made on rangeland which will show the general condition of all sites found on the ranch.

Major grasses, woody plants, and perennial forbs will be shown and will form the basis for range management practices. A system of grazing or plan can be worked out by the rancher and the SCS technician assisting the soil conservation district. A decision will be made as to the class, age, and number of livestock to run on the rangeland. Any number that is decided upon will be only a starting number for range improvement and should be as flexible as range production.

The grazing plan will probably include deferred grazing of all pastures needing improvement to allow the grasses an opportunity to regain vigor and to produce seed. The grazing plan will show where the cattle will graze when various pastures are deferred. This may include cropland fields planted for summer grazing or wheat for winter grazing. With a plan such as this, all of the rangeland should be shown as to the year getting the deferment, the approximate starting and ending dates, and the number of livestock being carried. The rancher will be in a position to anticipate the amount of range improvement that can be expected and can plan for the enlargement of his herd.

Ranchers need to learn the growth habits and characteristics of the important native plants. After a knowledge is obtained of these important plants he will know how long a period of deferment is needed and by watching his better plants he will note the improvement being made. Range improvement will result when the desirable grasses are used properly and given timely rest periods. Proper use of range grasses is accomplished when no more than 50 percent of the annual growth, on a weight basis, has been grazed by livestock during the grazing season.

A good cover of grass is needed on the land for protection of the soil. During the winter time the cover will hold blowing snow and thus increase the moisture supply. During the spring and summer cover is needed to hold rainfall and prevent rapid evaporation. Additional grass will result from a sound range plan and provide a higher net return from the ranch.

Trophies Presented At Bowling Banquet

Awards and trophies were presented to top bowlers at the first bowling banquet, which 90 bowlers and sponsors attended.

In the Businessmen's League, members of the Sternenberg Lumber Company team each received the first place trophy. Team members were Max Bosley, Loyd Childers, Archie Davis, Roy McCarter, and Velton Sorgee. Bill Sternenberg received the sponsor's trophy.

Roy McCarter had the high game in the league, and Glenn Tucek the high series. Bill Davis received a belt buckle for being the bowler with the most improved average.

Canyon League Winners

Richard Pruett was given the first place sponsor's trophy for the Village Drive-In team, which won the Canyon League. On this team were Glynn Barrington, Dan Higgins, Rex Loftis, Charles Marshall, and Wayne Porter. High game went to Ron Downing, and high series to Eddie Duenkel. Oscar Griffin won the most improved bowler award.

Johnnie's Humble station received the first place trophy in the City League. Team members were Nig Carter, Tom Hunter, and Tommy Tucker. Bill Head had the high game, and Nig Carter the high series. Joe Knoll was the most improved bowler in the league.

In the Palo Duro League the first place trophies went to the Hillier Radiator Shop team. Members were Ira Bergan, Marvin Collier, Jim Curb, and Kenneth Hillier. Hillier also received the sponsor's trophy. The most improved bowler award went to Denzil Lacy.

Women's League Winners

The first place trophy in the Women's League was given to the Thompson Hardware team, made up of Ruth Foster, Clara Mann, Billie Melton, and Mrs. Wayne Porter. Peggy Davis received the award for the highest game, and Billie Melton received the high series award. Louise Pierce was the most improved bowler.

Sam Urban was presented the award for being the friendliest bowler.

Ransom to Give Senior Recital

Virginia Ransom, a 1960 graduate of Canyon High School, will play her senior recital Sunday afternoon in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Newton Harrell, southeast of Canyon.

Miss Ransom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ransom of Claude, has been living with her grandmother, Mrs. N. A. Croson, during her senior year. While in high school, Miss Ransom was active in choir, Future Teachers of America, and Future Homemakers of America.

She became an international member of the National Guild of Student Musicians and won a diploma from the American College of Musicians. She has also been awarded a scholarship by West Texas State College for winning a piano competition.

For the recital, Miss Ransom will play Allegro, F minor Opus 2 No. 1, Minuette Opus 2, Scherzo Opus 2 No. 2, and Allegretto Opus 27 No. 2 by Beethoven; Minuet in G, Musette in D, Prelude in C from the "Well Tempered Clavicord," and Polonaise by Bach; Scarf Dance by Chaminade; and Prelude in C sharp minor by Rachmaninoff.

First Services Slated At Gospel Lighthouse

First services held in the Gospel Lighthouse will be conducted Friday at 7:30 p.m. The Gospel Lighthouse is located at 305 Sixth Avenue.

Doug Gardner of Tulia will be in charge of the preaching service. Everyone is invited.

Schedule for regular services will be announced later.

Persons Feted On Anniversary

An open house was held May 29 to honor Mr. and Mrs. Grady Persons on their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Goldie Pond and Henry Grady Persons were married June 2, 1910, in her parents' home at Stephenville by a Rev. McLaughlin, a Baptist minister.

Assisting in the open house, held in the Persons' home south of Canyon, were three of their children and their families. They were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Persons and Debbie of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harlan and Lois of Canyon, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bobbitt of Carlsbad.

Mrs. E. D. Persons, pianist, furnished background music. Lois Harlan presided at the punch service.

The serving table was draped with white satin that fell in pleats to the floor and was accented by golden cord that hung in scallops. A large, tiered cake centered the table, and an arrangement of roses was flanked by golden candelabra. Golden and crystal appointments completed the setting.

Mr. and Mrs. Persons and their children greeted the 160 guests who called. Among special guests were Mrs. Eula Greenhaw, Mr. Persons' only sister, and her daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Ehrann.

The Persons family reunion will begin June 14, when two sons, W. B. Persons and family of Eugene, Ore., and Glyn N. Persons and family of Seattle, Wash., will be present.

Also expected is a granddaughter, Mrs. Don Buchs, and her family from Clarinda, Iowa, and a cousin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lee from Fort Worth.

A. W. Mack Feted In Museum Event

The Hall of Fine Arts of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum was the scene of a reception honoring A. W. Mack, Canyon artist, whose paintings will be on display in the Hall through the month of June.

This reception, which drew about 150 persons, was held at the midpoint in the exhibit's allotted time in the Hall.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Mack were Mr. and Mrs. C. Boone McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cook, Mrs. George de Schweinitz, Miss Mabel Hare, and Dr. Ruth Lowes.

Dr. Hattie M. Anderson and Mrs. Ples Harper guided visitors through the paintings. Mrs. Joseph Findley and Mrs. McClure served refreshments.

The exhibit of about 50 of the artist's oil paintings represents a wide variety of landscapes, portraits, and scenes. A variety of cultures are represented from western ranch scenes to interpretations of Biblical, mythological, and literary subjects.

A native of Scotland, Mack is a graduate of the Art College and Teachers College at Edinborough. He has studied art in Glasgow, Dublin, London, and Paris.

Minimum Wheat Support Rate Set at $1.79 for 1960 Crop

The basic minimum price support rate for 1960 crop wheat in Randall County will be $1.79 a bushel, Doyle Thomas of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office announced this week.

The rate is based on the minimum average wheat support of $1.77 a bushel for the 1960 crop announced last summer. Loans will be available at the minimum rate early in the price support period.

Final national and county rates will be determined on the basis of supply and parity figures as of July 1, and any loans made at the minimum rate will be adjusted as necessary at that time.

Terminal-Stored Wheat

In addition to the county rate, the ASC office now has information on minimum rates for support wheat stored in terminals. Farmers needing terminal rate information may obtain it at the county office. In general, the terminal rate exceeds the county rate by the amount of handling and freight charges necessary to get the wheat to the terminal.

As in previous years, the price of the 1960 wheat crop will be supported through loans on farm or warehouse-stored wheat and through the purchase of wheat delivered by producers under purchase agreements. Loans and purchase agreements will be available from harvest through January 31, 1961. The loans will mature March 31, 1961.

Support for No. 1 Wheat

In general, the basic support rate is for No. 1 wheat. Premiums and discounts are applied to determine the rate for wheat which is of other grades or has other quality factors. There is a discount of 20 cents per bushel for certain previously announced varieties which have inferior milling or baking qualities.

The county support rate, Thomas said, will be adjusted for any future freight rate decreases that may occur during the 1960 period of price support availability.

Nonrecourse price support on 1960 production of wheat will be subject to a $50,000 limitation as required by a provision of the 1960 Agricultural Appropriation Act.

A producer will be exempt from the limitation on nonrecourse price support if his 1960 acreage of wheat is reduced at least 20 percent below his 1959 acreage. Loans will continue to be made in excess of $50,000 on a recourse basis under which the borrower agrees to repay any amount over $50,000 by January 31, 1962.

Ashby Chosen to Attend Institute at Oregon State

Ebert A. Ashby of West Texas State College is one of 50 teachers in the United States chosen to attend an Institute for College Teachers of Biological Science at Oregon State College this summer.

The institute, which will run from June 20 to August 12, will cover eight biological science courses, including radiation biology and experimental embryology.

DREAMER

Many a man fails because he measures his industry by the things he plans to do tomorrow.

Madame Arcati, left, a crystal ball gazer, talks to Elvira, the ghost she has conjured up, in a scene from "Blithe Spirit," the first production of the summer theater season at West Texas State College's Branding Iron Theatre. Marian Forbau of Canyon plays Madame Arcati and Marti Hinson of Groom appears as Elvira in the Noel Coward comedy.

Director Schedules First Summer Play

An experienced cast of seven has been chosen by Director William A. Moore for the first production of the summer theater season at West Texas State College. An old favorite, and still spritely smart sophisticated comedy, "Blithe Spirit" by Noel Coward, will initiate the season.

Scheduled to open June 16 for a three-night run in the new Branding Iron Theatre, air-conditioned for comfort of patrons, the farce which gained so much popularity in the mid-forties, will be a stage play. Students enrolled at WT for the summer theater workshop will participate in shows throughout the summer.

Reservations for any of the three nights may be made through the WT speech department. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for high school students and children. Curtain time each night will be 8:15.

Written in England

Written in war-weary England in 1941 by Coward, "Blithe Spirit" was produced on Broadway in 1942. When released for college and little theaters, the play became the most popular college play in 1947.

Moore produced the play in 1948 at West Texas State in the old BIT.

Called "an improbable farce," the comedy is a playful excursion into psychical research. Beginning with a spiritualistic seance conducted in the home of an English novelist in search of local color, the story presents the predicament of a man who inadvertently brings the ghost of his first wife back to the home where his second wife is now enscounced.

Spirit Presents Problems

The man's beautiful late wife mischievously floats spectrally through his household splashing delicate poison on his second marriage. Since the daffy medium who contrived the lady's visit lacks the power to terminate it, in no time things are dramatically at sixes and sevens.

Cast as Elvira, the spectral spouse, is Marti Hinson, Groom graduate who has played lead roles for several years in the BIT. Another talented BIT veteran, Avent Smith of Amarillo, will appear as Charles Condomine, the novelist, and Rena Aikens of Amarillo, best supporting actress in three-acts, and best actress in one-acts at WT this year, will play the second wife, Ruth Condomine.

From her role last year as a spiritualist in the operetta, "The Medium," Marian Forbau of Canyon will be Madame Arcati, the crystal ball gazer who conjures up Elvira. Rosalie Hurt of El Paso plays the role of Edith, and Guy Yates of Amarillo and Sherri Davis of Durham, Okla., appear as Dr. and Mrs. Bradman.

Rev. Dale Harter Attends Session

Rev. Dale M. Harter, pastor of the First Christian Church, will attend a two week seminar on campus ministry on the Texas Christian University campus in Fort Worth.

Rev. Harter, who left Canyon by train Sunday evening, has received a scholarship from the Joint Commission of Campus Christian Life with national offices in Indianapolis, Ind., and Brite College of the Bible at TCU. He is also being sent by the West Texas Christian Student Fellowship and the First Christian Church.

He will return June 18.

During Rev. Harter's absence from the pulpit, Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College, will speak Sunday morning, with Dr. Joseph Findley leading the worship service.

Rev. Harter will be in his pulpit June 19.

Bible School began at Wayside Monday. We hope for a large attendance.

Ira Schrib and Charles Kennedy were in Tulia on business Thursday.

Mrs. Robert Adams is at the bedside of her father, William Cunningham, in Amarillo. He had surgery there Saturday.

(Mrs. Joyce Lane and Joy, Mrs. Eddie Mahler, and Mrs. Faye Nichols are visiting relatives in Grand Falls, N. D.

Marilyn Wetzel spent Tuesday and Wednesday at Camp Don Harrington attending District 4-H Club Camp.

H. C. Newsom is a patient in the Amarillo Osteopathic Hospital.

The Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon at the school house. The 4-H Club girls presented their dairy foods demonstration.

Merle Jenkins of Canyon died Sunday afternoon in the Canyon hospital. Our sympathy goes to his family and his mother, Mrs. Mary Jenkins.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Kennedy of Claude spent Sunday in the Charles Kennedy home.

Ronnie Wesley of Happy visited Jimmy Schrib Sunday afternoon.

Harvest has begun at Wayside, and the barley is the earliest crop being harvested. Showers have fallen the past week, but there has been no appreciable moisture.

IN A RUT

The trouble is that too many people expect to make this year better by following last year's formula.

THANKS

For your support and vote in Saturday's election that elected me your County Judge.

I am grateful for the opportunity of serving you in this office.

the scarf in full dress

Gorgeous fabric — scarf print on a satin stripe cotton. Such beauty needs gentle care in designing..and, of course, Marcy Lee handled it wisely in the simplest of shirtdress forms. In colors that fairly sparkle against whitegrounds: ruby, blue and beige; ruby, blue and grey; or blue, green and orange.
